(19) The first application for the publication of the Sadhvi was made under the Mysore Newspapers Regulation in 1908 (Vide G.M. 87 of 08 Flo 8 to 45). The Sadhvi is therein described as "a ladies' magazine devoted to social and educational matters". In G.O. No. G 6050-21 / G.M. 87-08-172 dated the 22nd April 1909 permission was granted to convert the Sadhvi into "a bimonthly and Anglo Kanarese journal". But

Note—Contn. sheet.

GPB—55,000—27-4-09

even before obtaining permission for the conversion of Sadhvi into a fortnightly journal and ~~when the~~ shortly after the passing of the Newspapers Regulation, the nature of the publication had been changed from "a ladies' magazine devoted to social and educational matters" into a journal dealing with public news and political matters. [Vide issues of the journal for August, September, October and November 1908 put up herewith —— the latter two issues showing the altered nature of the publication] For thus changing the nature of the publication no permission was obtained.

(20) In Govt Order No G. 3962-4/G. R. 87-08-219 of 2nd Feb 1910, Mr. H. S. Venkata Rao was refused permission to issue the English and the Kannada parts of the paper separately and to convert the journal into a weekly.

(21) The papers regarding the grant of permission to convert the Sadhvi into a daily newspaper and the subsequent cancellation of the same are also put up (Vide G. R. 734 of 10 Pls 32+38 and 41, 50 &c)

23 As regards the inquiry at para 15 above, (Dewan's order), the permission of Govt. required under Sec 2 of the Newspapers Regn seems to be necessary in ~~the~~ cases of the kind under advertence also. On the application of editors or proprietors to edit or publish a newspaper ~~specifying~~ of a particular description such as a weekly or fortnightly paper in English and so on, permission is granted by Govt and such permission can be held to be in force only so long as the conditions of the applns remain unaltered. When they are so altered, for instance, by ~~the~~ change in the period of publication, or change of language of publication &c, the paper has to be considered a different one altogether, and

S. 2 of the Regulation is not wide enough to cover all cases, and it may ~~then~~ be reasonably contended that when permission is given under it to publish a paper, the mere increase in the frequency of Publication does not requires the sanction of Govt. However this view is not taken by the Publishers & to be on the safe side, they have asked for express permission. I think it may be granted.

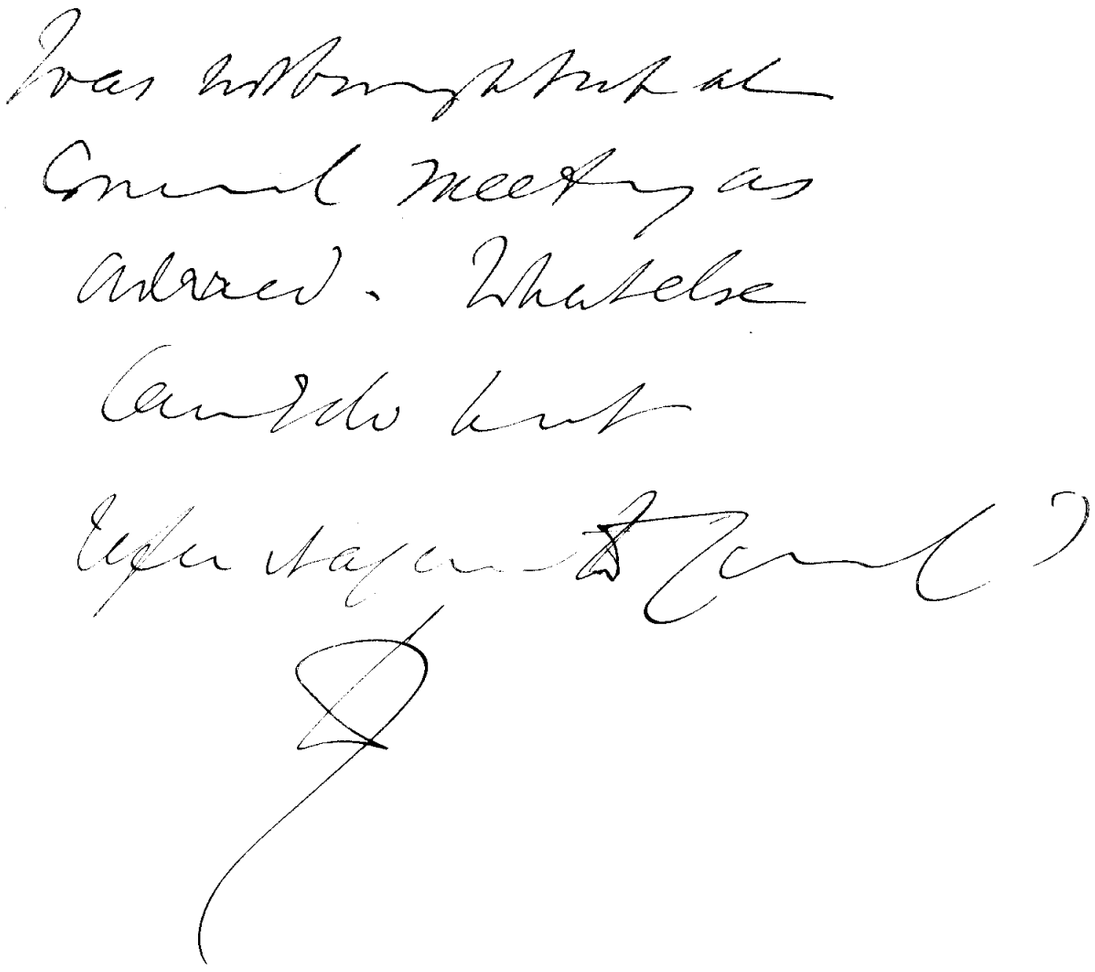
In this case (Conversion of Sabhai from a fortnightly into a weekly) the Dewan has been pleased to call for the opinion of the Councillors.

I beg to submit that both the Councillors have already recorded their opinions - (Flag A at page 4 of the notes).

They have no interest in the subject matter of the subsequent proceedings therein



Submitted to His Highness.

Mr. M.S. Lakshman Row, the Printer and Proprietor of the Sadhvi, has applied for permission to convert the fortnightly into a weekly.

2. The previous history of the paper has been given in the office notes. It may be mentioned that in 1909, the Editor, Mr. Venkat Row, applied for permission to convert the Sadhvi into a weekly and to publish the English and the Kannada parts separately. His request was not granted at the time - vide Government Order No. 3962-4 dated 2nd February 1910. The discussions &c., which led to the passing of this order are contained in the file collection No.87 of 1908, and the confidential sealed cover within it.

3. With reference to the present application, both the Councillors are of opinion that permission may be granted to publish the weekly. There is however an irregularity in this matter in as much as, although the paper began as a Ladies Monthly Magazine in Kannada devoted to social and educational matters, it has developed into a regular newspaper of the usual kind dealing with politics.

Nevertheless,

Nevertheless, the permission applied for may, I think, be given.

The Secretary to Government
General and Revenue Department
Mysore

Sir,

I wish to make the fortnightly anglo-vernacular Sadhvi into a weekly. I need scarcely tell you that the policy of the paper is more of a social, religious, educational, agricultural and industrial nature, than of a political one. A perusal of the past issues will convince you that our loyalty to the British and Mysore throne is above suspicion. I shall promise to conduct the journal with scrupulous attention to the preservation of loyalty.

I beg you will kindly place this letter before the Government and obtain for me permission to convert the fortnightly into the weekly.

I beg to remain sir,
Your most Obedient Servant
M. S. Lakshmma Rao.
